Expressive Arts:

We have been following the WJEC Appraising Music unit, reinforcing musical terminology and linking it to our own playing through active listening. We have started work on our summer performance, which includes developing an original tune composed by the group.

You can help your child by:

When listening to music, ask them about musical elements they can hear (structure, dynamics – loud and quiet- what the instruments are playing, what the main riff is). Listen to lots of different types of music which you may not normally listen to!
